Dear Parents and Carers

As we are all aware we are all in an evolving situation. This includes what a classroom might look like in the future.

With a growing number of parents making the difficult decision to keep their child at home, we are constantly reviewing what this looks like in terms of teaching and learning.

A decision has been made by the school to suspend all further student formal assessments until the end of this term. Once we have further advice from the School Curriculum and Assessment Authority we will update all parents and students.

For students at home. They will be asked to access resources online through Connect, OneNote and the Department of Education website, continuing to work from home, saving their work, backing up their work, as this may be used to form teacher judgements about their performance in the future. Teachers will not be marking student work or providing feedback to students working from home while they are still teaching. Should schools close in the future how we assess student performance and provide feedback will be reviewed.

For students at school. They are here accessing direct teacher instruction. They are learning, the focus has not changed, they will continue to get valuable feedback to further improve their skills. Students staying at home are currently not receiving this. In class students will do that essay, do that test, practice writing under exam conditions, all for the purpose of practice and feedback. Students will be asked to keep their work for future reference. Results will not be recorded in the marks book.

Once we have further advice from the School Curriculum and Assessment Authority we will update parents and students.

We have now updated our website with the latest information for parents. Please go to School & Community on our website, click COVID-19 to locate notices, links to resources and general information for parents. Our website will be regularly updated as new information becomes available.

Teachers are appreciating the messages of support coming through from parents.

Take care of yourselves and your family.

Karon Brookes

Principal
